

"MOMMALICIOUS" MAKEOVER FOR THURSDAY

The Early Show continued its weeklong series of makeovers for deserving moms, leading up to Mother's Day this Sunday, with a makeover for divorced mother of two Donna Munoz.

She's faced many of life's challenges head-on and, with a birthday next month, we wanted to do something special for this New Jersey-ite.

Donna revealed her new look on the show. She's the mother of two boys: Bernardo, 36, and Andre, 30. Bernardo was also in the studio on May 7, 2009.

Her makeover team consisted of O magazine Creative Director Adam Glassman and celebrity hairstylist Ted Gibson.

STYLE TIPS FROM ADAM GLASSMAN:

What are the tips that we can learn from Donna's makeover?

Dn't be afraid of mixing color, white jeans are always trendy, incorporate pieces into your own wardrobe, accessories add bursts of color, this is great for office and for going out

STYLE TIPS FROM TED GIBSON:

We sometimes hear that women of a certain age shouldn't wear their hair long-what do you think about that?

2009 is about BREAKIN THE RULES!!!! I believe that now is the time for woman to think about hair differently than before. A woman in her 40zz+ can have longer hair. its chic, cool and right on time.

Why did you think this would fit her lifestyle?

Donna works in a corporate setting and looking your best is essential for growth in any company. It will fit her lifestyle but it is important to take care of yourself and see your stylist every 6 weeks for a haircut and to feel better about yourself.

Is this look something she can maintain on her own?

Yes and no, you can do your own color retouch at home with a color retouch kit, but I don't recommend cutting your hair at home.
