HEALTH CARE REFORM, THE ECONOMY AND THE PRESIDENT
March 29 - April 1, 2010

The latest CBS News Poll finds Americans are concerned about health care and the economy. The public is increasingly skeptical of the health care reform bill signed into law last week. More Americans now disapprove of the legislation, and many expect their costs to rise and the quality of their care to worsen; few expect the reforms to help them. There are also widespread worries about the economy and job loss.

Amid these concerns, President Barack Obama's job approval rating has dropped in this poll to an all-time low of 44%. His ratings on handling the economy and health care have also fallen, and most disapprove. But he receives higher marks on his handling of international issues.

HEALTH CARE REFORM

Support for the recently-passed health care reforms has dropped since the legislation was signed into law by President Obama last week. Now, 53% of Americans say they disapprove of the new reforms, including 39% who say they disapprove strongly. On the eve of passage of the historic bill in Congress, 37% said they approved and 48% disapproved.

APPROVAL OF THE HEALTH CARE BILL

	Now	3/22/2010
Approve	32%	37%
Disapprove	53	48

Republicans and independents remain opposed to the reforms, and support has dropped some among Democrats. Now 52% of Democrats approve of the new reforms, a drop from 60% just before the bill was passed by Congress.

Disapprove	75	80	34	24	54	54

And less than one in five Americans thinks the new health care reforms will help them personally - unchanged since before the vote in Congress. 36% think the new reforms will hurt them, while 39% think they will have little effect.

There are also some doubts about the specific ways in which Americans expect the reforms will affect them. Half think the new health care reforms will increase their health care costs, and 39% think the quality of their health care will get worse. However, sizable percentages expect the reforms will improve or have no effect on either.

But Americans are relatively more positive about one outcome of the legislation -- the effect the new reforms will have on consumers and the health insurance industry. 35% think the reforms will increase consumer protection against health insurance companies, and just 20% expect that to decrease.

Still, as was the case before the bill was passed, about half of Americans say they don't have a good understanding of how the new reforms will affect them and their family. 53% find the reforms confusing, and just 41% understand their impact.

THE PRESIDENT

President Obama's job approval rating has fallen to an all-time low of 44%, down five points from late March. 41% now disapprove, unchanged from last month. The percentage who are unsure has risen five points.

Disapprove	41	41	45	40	34	23
Don't know	15	10	9	10	20	9

A majority of Democrats still approves, but the President's overall approval rating with his own party identifiers has dropped four points since last week.

There is a difference between how the public evaluates the President on domestic versus international issues. More Americans approve of how President Obama is handling terrorism and the wars in Iraq and Afghanistan. But when it comes to health care and the economy, majorities disapprove.

Overall	44%	41
Economy	42%	50
Health care	34%	55
Terrorism	54%	32
Iraq	49%	34
Afghanistan	48%	36

Approval of President Obama's handling of health care has fallen seven points since just before the House vote on health care reform, and is now at an all-time low. Only 34% approve, and a majority disapproves.

THE ECONOMY

The public continues to view the economy negatively. More than eight in ten think the economy is bad, the same as a year ago.

	CONDITION OF THE ECONOMY

Good	16%	22%	16%	5%	11%
Bad	84	77	84	93	89

At the same time, concern about job loss has gone up somewhat; more Americans now (35%) than in February (31%) are very concerned that someone in their household will lose a job. Nearly six in 10 Americans are at least somewhat concerned about a job loss.

As has often been the case, lower-income Americans tend to be the most concerned about job loss.

CONGRESS AND CIVILITY

Congress' approval ratings remain low at just 16%. Approval of Congress is lower than it was a year ago.

The lead-up to the House vote on health care reform was contentious, and most Americans believe Congress' behavior is less civil now than it was ten years ago. Democrats, Republicans and independents all share that view.

Similarly, the public also thinks civility among Americans generally has decreased; 50% say when they debate the issues of the day, ordinary Americans are less civil now than they were ten years ago.

This poll was conducted among a random sample of 858 adults nationwide, interviewed by telephone March 29-April 1, 2010. Phone numbers were dialed from random digit dial samples of both standard land-line and cell phones. The error due to sampling for results based on the entire sample could be plus or minus three percentage points. The error for subgroups is higher. This poll release conforms to the Standards of Disclosure of the National Council on Public Polls.
