

FACTUAL SUMMARY
Office of Investigations Report No. 2-2006-013

On March 8, 2006, the U.S. Nuclear Regulatory Commission (NRC), Office of Investigations (OI), initiated an investigation to determine if security officers employed with The Wackenhut Corporation (Wackenhut) at the Turkey Point Nuclear Plant (Turkey Point) were willfully inattentive to duty (sleeping) at times during 2004 through 2006.

Five security officers admitted that, at times during 2004 through 2006, they were inattentive to duty on separate occasions. Although specific dates of inattentiveness could not be established, one of these five security officers was observed by other security officers to be inattentive to duty on several occasions.

One security officer admitted that, on at least one occasion during 2004-2006, he stood lookout for two other security officers such that they could be inattentive to duties without risk of being caught.

One security officer stated that, on at least one occasion during 2004-2006, two security guards stood as lookouts for him such that he was able to be inattentive to duties without risk of being caught.

One security officer was observed by an NRC inspector to be inattentive to duties on April 6, 2006, while standing duty on a vital area compensatory post.
